True Facts As to Tinner's Strike

Secretary Tittle Corrects Erroneous Statement in Times

An article recently appeared in the Chattanooga Times in refer-An article recently appeared in the Chattanooga Times in reference to the strike of sheet metal workers in this city in which several misstatements were made. To those in touch with the situation as it really exists the said article could only cause amusement, but for the benefit of those who have not had an opportunity to know the real facts, G. C. Tittle, the live-wire secretary of Local 62, Sheet Metal Workers, has prepared the following statement:

A news item appearing in the Chattanooga Times of May 31 in misrepresentation of facts. I desire to state the facts as to our strike regard to the strike of the Sheet Metal Workers of Chattanooga was a at the Tom Snow Heating and Roofing company and the Mountain

the Tom Snow Heating and Roofing company and the Mountain

City Stove company

After being notified by our secretary to meet our executive committee to adjust our wage scale, the Tom Snow Heating and Roofing company did go to the men individually and give four of them 50 cents Six other members of our organization who were working Snow's shop were receiving an average of 35 cents per hour at the time they were called out of the Som Snow shop. At this time the Chattanooga Blow Pipe company, Lookout Roofing company and some of our other best shops were paying their men 55 cents to 65 cents per hour.

The article also states the old tradesmen have left for different parts, which is not true. Two of the Tom Snow company's men and two of the Mountain City Stove company's old employes are in Sheffield, working on the nitrate plant; one volunteered for army service. Six of the Snow company's old employes are working in a local shop that signed our agreement and is fair to our organization.

shop that signed our agreement and is fair to our organization.

The article states that the sheet metal workers in Memphis and Knoxville went back to work for less than the Tom Snow company was paying its men prior to the strike, which is not true. Memphis has been paying 62 1-2 cents per hour for over a year, and shops there now are offering as high as 80 cents per hour for good union sheet metal workers.

Local union No. 62. Sheet Metal Workers of Chattanooga, have reached an agreement with ten sheet metal shops in the city of Chattanooga, as follows:

Chattanooga Blow Pipe and and Roofing company. Lookout Roofing company. Chattanooga Range and Repair company.

Stutz Bros. Press Sheet Metal Works.

North Chattanooga Sheet Metal works. Dixie Sheet Metal works.

Chattanooga Roofing and Foundry company, H. A. McGinnis.

Chattanooga Soda Fountain company.

All of our membership, which is some thirty-five or forty sheet metal workers, are employed in these shops. We are also conducting a trade school in connection with our organization, teaching our membership to be more efficient at the trade and thereby benefiting membership to be more efficient at the trade and thereby beneaung our employers as well as their customers, who receive the services of competent sheet metal workers who have served their trade and have the ability to do their work in a workmanlike manner in the least possible time. We have no crews to break in and no new faces, but men who have spent their entire lives in Hamilton county and always have been good, useful citizens.

[Sheet Motel Workers Local No. 62] have been good, useful citizens.

Secretary Sheet Metal Workers, Local No. 62.

WON LIBERTY BOND AND GIVES IT TO RED CROSS

Intense Interest Manifested in War Out West-This Incident Shows Extent.

A letter has been received by James G. Rice from his brother, Bruce L. Rice, in which the latter tells of the intense interest displayed all over the intense interest displayed all over the country, especially in the was, during the third liberty loan drive. Mr. Rice described one incident in the lobby of a Tulsa hotel. An extract from Mr. Rice's letter is as follows:

"I was in Tulsa during the last liberty loan drive, and made some speeches for the loan. I made one in the lobby of the Tulsa hotel one night and we got ty loan drive, and made some speeches for the loan. I made one in the lobby of the Tulsa hotel one night and we got over $30,000 in subscriptions from the crowd. They ran a "wheel" in the lobby most of the time, raffling off liberty bonds. Occasionally they would put on a $10,000 bond and sell 100 chances at $100 each. One night Al Farmer, a bully good fellow, won a $10,000 bond and immediately jumped up on the platform before the crowd and announced that he would donate it to the Red Cross and the relief of French orphans. Tulsa's quota was $3,600,000. They raised the amount in one week. Pittless publicity was given to every man who didn't subjectibe according to his ability, and in a few cases horsewhipping was resorted to. All this shows the spirit of Tulsa.

Mr. Rice was born in Clarksville, Tenn., and later moved to New York, where he now resides. On a recent visit to Tulsa, Okla., he witnessed the above scene.

HUMANE SOCIETY PLANS PROGRAM

Will Protect Birds and Horses. Explains How Rabies May Be Known.

The Chattanooga Humane society this summer will try to impress on the public the importance of animals in the war. They will urge the pub-lie through circulars and newspaper items to keep their domestic animals healthy, as well as notifying stable owners to keep their places sanitary.

One of the topics during the summer will be the condition of the water troughs. Mrs. Hardy, president of the association, states that many of the troughs are unsanitary a... many are always empty. Many horses are affected by these condition. The affected by these conditions. The society also cautions people to be more careful about leaving pieces of wood around with nails in them. The war department is also taking up this

Another work they are going to take up is the care of the birds, send-ing out circulars trying to teach the people the bird is a useful thing in

Cards telling the housewives of the extra burden on the delivery horse because of careless ordering will be given to the grocers to distribute among their customers.

Stable owners will be asked to care for their horses besides keeping their for their horses besides keeping their places more sanitary. They should wash the horse's back with salt water at night in hot weather. The city ordinance will also be asked to enforce their rule about keeping stable screened. Papers of driver's rules, stable rules, hot weather rules, etc., will be distributed among stall ownerse.

erse, Policemen will be advised as to how to kill a dog or a cat humanely.

Another thing projected is to teach the public when a dog is mad. Many people get excited and shoot a dog as soon as he runs in circles or froths at the mouth. The society will continue their work of billposting as well as Associated Press work and circulars.

WANTED JUST ONE QUART BEFORE WHIPPING HUNS

Letter of Farmer Brother to Hotel Clerk Got Latter in Trouble.

Desiring to "celebrate" a little before going forth to do his bit for world democracy, a young farmer of Bradley county, wrote his brother, A. T. Mc-Amis, night clerk at the Hotel Patten clerk, who has borne an excellent reputation like that of his hostelry, into trouble, and now it is in the hands of the police, with the result that the Bradley county farmer will probably not be able to "celebrate" before entering the fraw against the boches, although he only wanted one quart and "I'll whip thome damnable cusses," he wrote.

Clerk McAmis was approached on Thursday night by C. R. Newell, a young man he has known for some young man he has known for some time, and asked about some whisky Newell claimed he wanted for a friend. He finally parted with two pints of his supply which he had secured for his brother. He explained that he did that to accommodate a friend. Newell later fell into the hands of proposer sparies. fell into the hands of provost guards, was given a $10 bill, the number of which was taken, and sent back to the hotel in an effort to get some more liquor. He made another request of McAmis, who after much hesitation parted with an adidtoinal pint. That was when trouble started and a short time later the night clerk, a part of whose hadrones it is to wait on recent whose business it is to wait on guests who register at the hotel, was being registered at police headquarters by Patrolman T. H. McPhail and Provost guards Benner and Hudson on a charge of selling liquor. He was not by him. of selling liquor. He was not by him-self, fo rthe name of Newell also went down on the blotter. He was charged with procuring liquor

In police court Friday morning Mc-Amis made a clear breast of the whole affair and through his attorney. John J. Lively, entered a plea of "guilty."
The letter from the defendant's brother was exhibited. It was contended that the accused man had not sold liquor before, and Manager Harper, of the Fatten, was surprised and charging the Patten, was surprised and cha-grined at the slip, as he and Assistant Manager Lovell have used great precautions to prevent such happenings.

McAmis explained the presence the bill in the cash drawer, saying that each man had his drawer, in which be could keep his personal property and the money was in that drawer. He stated that the liquor was secured from a railroad conductor.

McAmis was fined $100 and costs and bound over to the grand jury. Newell was also fined and placed under a bond of $1,000.
